

WHY YOU SHOULD JOIN

Being a member of the ICP provides a range of benefits, including:

- Recognition – your professional status will be easily recognised by employing authorities and other professional bodies. ICP membership meets requirements for ACC contracts and referrals.
- Professional Support – you will have the opportunity to meet and develop relationships with colleagues as part of a network of clinical psychologists throughout New Zealand.
- Training and Conference – you get discounted fees at ICP sponsored workshops and your opinions and preferences can help shape the training that is offered.
- Consultation and Representation – your views on relevant professional matters can be represented through ICP involvement in various government consultation groups and submissions
- Supporting Research – the ICP annually offers small research and project grants designed with practising clinicians in mind, and a student research grant to present at the annual conference. .

WHO CAN JOIN?

Full ICP membership requires meeting five main criteria:

- A current financial member of NZPsS.
- NZ registration as psychologist in the clinical psychologist scope of practice.
- Holder of Current Annual Practising Certificate (APC) in the clinical psychologist Scope of Practice, issued by the NZ Psychologists Board.
- Holder of NZ postgraduate diploma in clinical psychology/professional doctorate in clinical psychology OR holder of recognised overseas equivalent.
- Provide evidence of safe practice through clinical supervision reports. (2 years of NZ supervision)

Other categories are available for those who are in the process of meeting full membership status (i.e., Associate Membership for those who are obtaining the requisite supervision and Student Membership for those completing a clinical psychology training programme), or who have an interest in clinical psychology but do not hold the required post-graduate qualification (i.e., Affiliate Membership).

Full membership is $55.00; student membership is free

Aims of the Institute

- Promote high standards of qualification, competency, and ethically sound practice in clinical psychology
- Promote high standards of continuing professional competence among members of the Institute
- Promote high standards of clinical psychological training and research
- Disseminate information about clinical psychology knowledge and practice in Aotearoa New Zealand
- Practice and promote awareness of the Treaty of Waitangi as part of competent professional practice in clinical psychology.

The ICP makes suggestions for the NZPsS Professional Development Programme. Institute sponsored workshops for 2012 include : The introductory and advanced Supervision workshops; Managing Risk-advanced topics, Compassion focussed therapy, - please check the website for more. ICP members receive a $15 discount when attending an ICP sponsored workshop.

The ICP nominates a clinical keynote speaker for the NZPsS conference every year and is part of the academic review panel. ICP also helps with organising and chairing a clinical symposium/stream.

The ICP is represented on the NZPsS and NZCCP joint conference 2012 committee and helped select high profile clinical keynote speakers.

The Institute has provided consultation and feedback on a number of initiatives over the past year, including Code of Ethics into Te Reo, the New Zealand Psychological Society's 2011 - 2016 Strategic Plan, the Australian Clinical Psychology Association, and ACC Branch Advisory Psychologists supervision requirements.

The ICP offers members the opportunity to apply for a research/project grant and rewards the best ICP Student paper at conference with a $250 cheque.

The ICP also uses Facebook (see the homepage of the website: www.psychology.org.nz) and a regular newsletter to share ideas and developments.
