

Half-day workshop, 5 September from 1.30pm-5.00pm

Women in Leadership

This workshop aims to provide the opportunity for those interested in developing and growing women in leadership. The intent, firstly, is to provide an opportunity for discussion, outlining of tensions and issues that arise for women in terms of leadership development. While we also weave current research and theory into issues, ultimately participants will be given the opportunity to connect, discuss and develop a personalised leadership plan.

About the Presenter:

Dr Maree Roche is Convenor of Organisational Psychology, School of Psychology and Co - Director of the Leadership Unit, at the University of Waikato. Her research focusses on leadership, wellbeing and diversity. Some of her research areas in women and leadership focuses on implicit v explicit bias and the malleability of gender-leader bias. Maree's work also focusses more broadly on the psychological resources that relate to advancing positive leadership.
