

Life Membership

Life membership may be granted by the Executive, at its discretion, to those full members who have been members of the Society for thirty years, or who have been members of the Society for at least twenty years and who have made an outstanding contribution to the Society over an extended period of time. For the purposes of this rule prior membership of an equivalent overseas psychological organisation may be deemed equivalent to membership of the New Zealand Psychological Society, at the discretion of the Executive.

Life Members shall retain all rights and privileges of membership but are to be liable for diminished subscriptions or may be exempt from payment of further subscriptions in such manner and to such extent as the Executive may from time to time determine.
