The Western Australian ANZSCoS conference team extends a warm invitation to join us in Walyalup (Fremantle) in November 2024. Together, we will explore personal, social, and planetary sustainability through conversations on the power of connections & relationships, the purpose and process of equity & justice, and how we can come together for collective healing. The conference promises to be a grounding and uplifting experience, with a robust program. Given we have prioritised moments and opportunities for connecting, sharing, and reflection, we hope to see you in-person. However, for those unable to attend in-person, the conference will also live-streamed plenary sessions and a selection of the available workshops.
