

THRIVE AOTEAROA

CONNECTING MINDS,
TRANSFORMING LIVES...

Nau mai, haere mai...

Please join the New Zealand Association of Positive Psychology for our inaugural Thrive Aotearoa one day symposium!

NZAPP's role is supporting, uniting, upskilling and uplifting Positive Psychology practitioners and those working in related fields. This full-day of connection and learning is for human resources professionals, educators, coaches, Positive Psychology practitioners, students, or anyone interested in the latest research, practical application, and future direction of Positive Psychology and wellbeing science.

Topics include the future of burnout, resilient grieving, the future of positive psychology and workplace wellbeing, engineering wellbeing environments, the power of creativity in the workplace, and more.

THE SYMPOSIUM

Saturday, 14 September 2024 - 9:00am to 6:00pm (Followed by a networking cocktail session 6:00-7:30pm)

Alongside the informative, inspiring and invigorating speaker sessions will be a panel discussion, and opportunities to meet and connect with like-minded humans.

Awarded on the day will be the NZAPP's very first Founders Award, presented by the NZAPP Founder, Aaron Jarden, Associate Professor, Centre for Wellbeing Science, University of Melbourne.

Refreshments will be provided all day, and the event will close with a cocktail and networking event on site.

LOCATION

The Symposium will take place at:

AUT University, North Shore Campus

90 Akoranga Drive, Northcote, Tāmaki Makaurau Auckland
Conference Centre AF114 accessed through Awataha Plaza
