SALARIED PSYCHOLOGY POSITION FOR GRADUATE WITH AN INTEREST IN PSYCHOTHERAPY

Southern Psychology Consultants are looking for a Psychologist to join the team. This would be a salaried position, for a clinician who has an interest in working in psychotherapy within the context of a busy private practice, and perhaps a view to seeing private practice as their long-term goal.

This is a new role, working within Southern Psychology Consultants Ltd. but alongside experienced clinicians at the Bealey Centre, one of the oldest established private practice teams in Christchurch. The chosen employee would undertake to see clients within a private practice, with some ACC Sensitive Claims and Psychological Services work. They would be mentored and supervised by Faye Grigg, a Clinical Psychologist of 30+ years clinical experience.

What Southern Psychology Can Offer You:

- An opportunity to develop an interest in a number of psychotherapeutic modalities such as EMDR, mindfulness, ISTDP and others and the opportunity to train in these if desired.
- Significant input and supervision from an experienced clinician.
- External supervisor of employee's choice.
- Autonomy regarding professional development, with a fixed amount per annum that the employee can use at their own discretion.
- Flexibility in terms of hours, as long as client hours per week are managed.

The Position Requirements include:

- Current Annual Practicing Certificate with the New Zealand Psychologists' Board
- Professional membership with either The New Zealand College of Clinical Psychologists or the New Zealand Psychological Society.
- Skills and experience in conducting clinical assessment and providing evidence-based interventions to a range of clinical presentations.
- Clinical skills and experience with children and/or adults.
- Excellent verbal and written communication skills.
- Dedicated, reliable and self-driven individual, who is keen to be part of a developing practice.
- Interest in working in psychotherapy.

Applications close 10 July 2021.
