

Gender Affirming Psychological Practice: Working with Trans & Non-Binary Folks

Hosted by the NZCCP Tāmaki Makaurau branch

Date: Friday 17th

May 2024

Time: 9am-3pm

Venue:

The Powerplant,
12 Madden St,
Wynyard Quarter

The workshop

This full-day workshop is for all psychologists who would like to increase their confidence in working with transgender and non-binary people. It includes a range of didactic teaching, exercises and case studies to equip you with a foundation of knowledge and skills for working safely and effectively with trans and non-binary folk. This workshop will be suitable for psychologists across private practice, secondary mental health services and students. Given the interactive nature of this workshop, numbers are limited.

Objectives of this workshop

- Learn relevant aspects of the historical and current contexts of the trans experience
- Learn current best practice principles and how to integrate these into your practice
- Practice case formulation
- Plan to implement a cultural safety framework for gender-affirming psychological practice

Cost

NZCCP members-$300

Non-Members-$400

Students-$150

(limit of 5)

Workshop facilitator

Dr Em Edwards (they/them/ia) is a registered Clinical Psychologist in Tāmaki Makaurau. They are a trans, non-binary, and queer Pākehā immigrant from California and the UK. Since completing their DClinPsy at the University of Auckland, they worked in adult community mental health and inpatient mental health services, and currently work at Auckland Sexual Health Service and private practice, predominantly with trans and non-binary folks.

Venue info

The Powerplant is located on the ground floor and is on the first right from the front entrance (12 Madden St). There is public all-day paid parking available on Jellicoe St and bus stops are nearby. Accessibility: Wharepaku/toilets are gender-neutral and fully accessible.
