

Te Kōtuku Rerenga Tahī - Graduate Programme 2021

APM is looking for New Graduate Psychologists to join our national team commencing in March 2021.

Learn to manage complex and challenging cases with multi-layered presentations through structured support from our team of skilled Inter-disciplinary clinicians. Scaffold your learning into a career as a rehabilitation specialist. Gain the ability to work on ACC contracts after completion of the 2-year Graduate Programme.

APM is an organisation focussed on delivery of considered bi-cultural and diverse contextual intervention, through the expertise and support of our Pou Ārahi. Through tailored cultural support alongside subject matter experts within our skilled Inter-disciplinary team, you will develop skills and expertise to deliver culturally responsive services to optimise client independence and re-engagement in daily functioning.

APM offers two specialist pathways:

The Clinical Programme - *Mātanga Tinana; where you will be working with a variety of mental health presentations alongside the recovery of the client within an interprofessional team environment. This includes working on specialist services such as pain, injury recovery and mental injury assessment.

The Neuropsychology Programme- *Mātanga Hinengaro, where you would gain experience in the assessment and rehabilitation of mild, moderate and severe traumatic brain injuries and other neurological conditions.

APM offer:

- Working in a supportive multidisciplinary team focused on delivering evidence-based services strongly aligned with the Biopsychosocial model of health
- Tailored in-house training, mentorship, and supervision to support your development
- Cultural guidance for engaging with diverse populations effectively
- Generous continued professional development fund accessible.
- Flexibility in working from the office, at home and in the community
- Salary band $75,500- $78,000 per annum, bonus structure, vehicle (some personal use) and tools for your trade supplied.
- Fully funded annual registration and professional body memberships
