The Central District Branch of the New Zealand Psychological Society is proud to host:

Workshop with David Menkes

Psychopharmacology through the lifespan

A full day workshop presented by

Professor David Menkes

14 June 9.30am - 4.30pm

Venue: Massey University, School of Psychology, Palmerston North
Room to be confirmed

Professor David Menkes is a psychiatrist who is based in Hamilton. Last year Professor Menkes gave a very informative and dynamic presentation on psychopharmacology. We are pleased to announce that Professor Menkes is coming back to Palmerston North in June and is offering a 1 day workshop.

The structure of this workshop will include:

- Critical psychiatry, validity of psychiatric diagnosis, and the contested relevance of DSM-5 to psychopharmacology.
- Psychiatry and children; is it controversial or obvious that children suffer from bipolar disorder and other diagnoses?
- Psychopharmacology into adolescence and young adulthood; the impact of alcohol and drugs (legal and otherwise, alone and in combination).
- Psychopharmacology into relationships, families, and life transitions; supplements and despair, finding meaning and psychotherapy.
- Psychopharmacology into the older years; do we need to medicate everything and what about declining memory?

Participants are invited to provide case studies and issues relating to these broad topics. Prof Menkes will draw on these in the workshop. A prize of $40 vouchers will be given for the best or most thought provoking question or case study submitted.

Attendees are invited to bring their own lunch, coffee tea and snacks provided.
